

ENGINEERING & CONSTRUCTION RISK INSTITUTE

Document number: ECRI-RQ-003 (DESC)	Review of Project Risk Profile	Page: 1 of 2
Revised 1 September 2009

Purpose: The purpose of this document is to set out the milestones, and the requirements, such that the risk profile of any project can be reassessed on a regular basis throughout the project life cycle.

Introduction; Throughout the course of any project circumstances and situations can change which require the risk profile to be reassessed to reflect these changes. A disciplined approach is required to ensure this practice is carried out at various stages through the course of the project.

Application: The document is written as a check list of project milestones at which the E & C Company should review a project or potential project's risks and the firm's ability to manage them.
